Mathematically Sane

Why Mathematically Sane?

- To ensure that both sides of the debate about mathematics education are heard
- To provide an accurate view of mathematics reform
- To provide evidence that mathematics reform is working for our students

Mathematically Sane

Our mission is to advocate for the rational reform of school mathematics by:

- Helping educators, citizens and policy-makers at all levels make a stronger case for better mathematics programs;
- Gathering and disseminating diverse success stories -- both anecdotal and data-based; and
- Providing a forum for reform minded mathematics educators.
